Desolation Canyon
Utah's Green River flows south across the Tavaputs Plateau (top before entering Desolation Canyon (center). The Canyon slices through the Book and Book Cliffs – two long, stairs-like escarpments. Nearly as deep as the Grand Canyon, Desolation Canyon is one of the largest unprotected wilderness areas in the American West.

Lambert 7 data

1° = 4.3 miles (6.9 km)